

WireWorld Ultraviolet 5<sup>2</sup>

The Ultraviolet sits in the middle of WireWorld's range of five flat HDMI cables, each available in various lengths. At the very top, a 25m Silver Starlight version can be yours for a whopping £1,700! Flat designs are becoming more popular, not just for the convenience of installing long runs in walls or under carpets, but as they can also help eliminate timing errors and improve conductivity. WireWorld's work has certainly paid off, because the picture quality via these cables is truly excellent and noticeably more detailed and realistic, especially with skin tones.
